

Shellbrook Public Elementary School

We believe

We believe in the implementation of high impact strategies connected to the Literacy Model. Classroom instruction will be highly engaging and structured to meet all levels of learners. When you enter classrooms, you will see engaged students developing a deeper understanding connected to literacy and the science of reading. With this, students will have a deeper understanding of literacy and on the way to becoming lifelong literacy learners.

What our staff learning looks like

We are envisioning an excited teaching staff that will feel confident with instructional strategies connected to the Literacy Model. When discussing their instruction pertaining to the Literacy Model, you will hear information on high impact strategies such as Morning Message, UFLI, Hegarty, and Morpheme Magic. Further, you will hear staff discussing and planning how to best support all levels of learners. Also, our staff will strive for effective communication with families on students' progress and information on how students can be supported at home, promoting family involvement.

What does excellence look like

Across the school, staff are working hard implementing high impact strategies connected to the Literacy Model. We see students engaged and able to develop their abilities no matter their starting point. From this, students develop a stronger understanding of the content and feel confident with demonstrating their understanding and its application.
